Khalid Graine

JR FULL STACK WEB DEVELOPER

I have always loved the world of technology and have dedicated myself to computer science, appreciating this constantly evolving sector. I love staying up to date on news related to it. The world of programming perfectly reflects my passions.

The keywords of this job are uniqueness, creativity, and freedom, with the awareness that there will always be something new to learn.

Work experience

December 2020 - September 2022

Library Ayoub laghmiri (Part-Time)

Library support staff

Education

January 2022 - in progress

Self-taught

I started my self-education journey during which I learned the basics of programming from scratch. I had the opportunity to write code and working on projects that aimed to replicate popular websites such as Discord, PlayStation, DC-Comics, web apps like Netflix, Whatsapp web, Spotify, and even creating two mini-games - Simon Says and Minesweeper - visible on my GitHub profile. Development took place using both front-end and back-end technologies and concludes with creating a complete final project, designing and programming all aspects of a web app.
